

Boulder City Welcomes New Staff in Finance, Clerk's Office

The Finance Department and Clerk's Office have two new staff members who started last week:

Amy Rahimpour joins the Finance Department as an Account Analyst. She is originally from Los Angeles, CA and has been living in Las Vegas for almost two years, where she was a Senior Accountant for MGM Resorts International. She graduated with a BA in Economics from Agnes Scott College in Decatur, GA and will be graduating with an MA in Accountancy from Ohio University in April. "My parents moved to Las Vegas this summer from California and have two golden retrievers that I get to see often. I also have two siblings who live in Los Angeles," Amy says. "I am so excited to be working for Boulder City because I love how charming the city and friendly everyone is! I hope to further my career in finance and look forward to expanding my knowledge in local government." In her free time, Amy enjoys swimming, cooking, and she says she's recently "developed an interest in learning how to figure skate." Welcome, Amy!

Bridgette Rodriguez Joins the City Clerk's Office as an Assistant who will be handling a number of duties, including passport service. She was born in Kingman, Az, and raised in North Las Vegas. She moved to Henderson in 2013, where she recently served as a Passport and Election Service Specialist for the City of Henderson. She has a son named Isaiah who is two and a half, who loves spiderman and riding his bike. "I am excited to work for Boulder City because of the kind culture the city has," Bridgette says. "I am ready to bring my expertise in Passports to the City Clerk's office and hope to help the community the best I can." Bridgette, who enjoys motorcycling in her free time, has developed a great appreciation for Boulder City's food scene. "My favorite thing to do is ride my motorcycle to Boulder City and enjoy a delicious breakfast at one of the many delicious restaurants," she says.
